

The London Textile Fair

We are all set for another edition of The London Textile Fair, to be held on the 19th and 20th of July 2017 at the Business Design Centre. The show will feature a wide range of Fashion textiles, Accessories, Print studios and Vintage garments focusing on Autumn/Winter 2018 pre-collections.

TLTF will have a new hall dedicated to fashion textiles accommodating about 50 new exhibitors for the biggest show ever since its debut in 2008.

"2017 results are above expectations" says John Kelley, show organiser and Textile Events owner "All our shows are fully booked, and after the successful launch of the Home and Technical textile hall within Textfusion last year, we have introduced a new segment for garment manufacturers in March, which has immediately received a positive response from British buyers."

And the surprises are not over, Textile Events will launch a new show in New York in August 2017: The Print + Design

Fair – New York Edition, dedicated to the best British and European Print Studios.

"Definitely the show to be at if you want to sell your fabrics among the top UK brands," according to Gianni Colombo, Dr agoni S.p.A (Italy) – Exhibitor TLTF (Textiles).

The industry professionals who come to TLTF represent almost every fashion brand and designer within the UK. From high-street chains to independent women, men and children clothing retailers. Among our regular customers are: TopShop, John Lewis, Dorothy Perkins, Tesco, Debenhams, Ted Backer, Misguided, All Saints, Coast, Marks&Spencer, Accessorize, River Island and many more.

"TLTF is such a great place to find new contacts and showcase the newest collections. The best part of the fair is that it has a nice welcoming atmosphere," says Ieva Kuojaite, Bruberi Design Oy (UK) – Exhibitor TLTF (Print Studio)

The accessories and textiles halls have together more than 90% of the total exhibiting space and, due to the increasing interest from new companies, we have opened a new room which accommodates 50 new fabric manufacturers.

The July 2017 edition will have a wide selection of womenswear, menswear, childrenswear fabrics and accessories with an increasing number of technical textiles manufacturers.

The Accessories Hall has grown exponentially over the last 5 editions, showcasing an impressively diverse range of products from the best European manufacturers. The number of exhibitors has exceeded expectation, with about 30% new companies registered for July.

The Print Design and Vintage Garments hall attracts the leading UK and international studios, with many studios exhibiting also at The London Print Design Fair which takes place in March and October. ♦
