

Tomsic Evenness Tester EASY: The Simplest Tester in the Market – 100% Made in Italy

Established in 1956, TOMSIC is an Italian family-owned company, producing complete laboratory equipment for spinning mills as well as autoleveller systems for cards and drawframes.

The “EASY” is already well known to major world markets. The consistently great success of the TOMSIC tester is thanks to the application of the most advanced technology, the simplicity of operation, flexibility, zero maintenance cost and an attractive price to performance ratio.

“EASY” is equipped with the most operator-friendly software. The flexible software, installed on a normal PC with Windows 10 platform, allows automatic update of the latest features directly from the head TOMSIC service station.

Furthermore, it is developed on the modular principle. Each slot is independent and easily extractable by the customer himself and with an auto test of each module. The capacitor sensor is improved with the patented self-calibrating function too. In practice, a lower service cost is guaranteed and thus a Tomsic technician on site is not required.

TOMSIC was present along with their agent Tahir and Sons to present a wide selection of high-quality laboratory and spinning products. ♦
